LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Anvil Herald neglected last week to mention the return of County Judge R. J. Noonan and Commissioner Henry Buss from Austin, where they had been to attend a meeting of the State Highway Department. The purpose of the visit of these members of the commissioners Court was to present a petition asking that funds be provided for topping the highway through Medina County. While they received no definite assurance that the petition would be granted, neither was the petition refused. The State Highway engineer is very favorable to topping our highway as is also the highway commissioner for this district, and our representatives are very hopeful that an appropriation will be provided for the work in this County at an early date. It is estimated that approximately $195,000 will be required to put this finishing touch to our highway.

The Hondo Aztecs base-ball team went to Del Rio for a game last Sunday. The game was played on a wet diamond, and as the Aztecs are not used to wet grounds the border team annexed the game by a score of 7 to 4. The Aztecs are somewhat revengeful and are planning what they will do that border bunch if they can get them for a game on a dry field. The Aztecs have a game scheduled on the local diamond Sunday with the "La Prensa" team of San Antonio.

The following from here attended the bull fight at Nuevo Laredo last Sunday: Joe Monkhouse, Ray Jennings, Meliff Lipold, Ben Epstein, Erwin Frerichs, Alvin Leinweber, Laylor Saathoff and Otis Schuehle. Perhaps there were others whose names we failed to get.

According to figures submitted to us by Mr. John P. Lippold, government cotton statistician for Medina County, there were ginned from the 1924 cotton crop in Medina County 7,549 bales. The 1923 crop was 5,687 bales.

WOMAN PASSES.
Angel of Death came as a relief from suffering to the Rose Hall during the morning hours of Tuesday, March 25, 1925, and the gentle and noble woman passed to the realms of bliss that her trusting faith awaited her coming. Her body was laid to rest by the hands and grieving hearts in the cemetery in San Antonio, Texas, Wednesday, March 25, 1925.
Hall was born at Memphis, Tenn., July 31, 1849, and was the daughter and one of the children of Major Sam Rose, a member of the Old South regiment of the Old South, and a noble spirit and noble traditions to a most noble degree. On December 11, 1907, she was married to John Hall, a brave and tried soldier, journalist and one of their native state of Tennessee. In 1885, they moved to Texas and passed through the most trying years of financial disaster known in the history of Southwest Texas. These years, her husband engaged in farming, newspaper work and teaching, the last three of which he spent at the place where his mortal career ended on January 11, 1907. The children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hall. They are Mrs. Alex. E. McCashin of Austin, and children, Dorothy and Boehme and Clarence McCashin, with Mrs. Hall's two children, the late B. B. Rose died in Lyle, Texas.
This, together with an ever hopeful disposition and power beyond most of enabled her to reach the age of 76 years. She remained active and strong for one year up until a few months ago when illness sapped her physical strength and she became an invalid. The hope of recovery, however, and skilful medical attention relieved her suffering all humanly possible and she sank until the end came, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McCashin in Austin. The cause of death was a long affliction of the liver beyond the skill of physicians.
The body was taken from Austin Tuesday afternoon and placed in the care of the Porter Loring Funeral Home. From the funeral home it was taken to the St. Marks Episcopal Church where the beautiful rites of which she loved so dearly and served so faithfully for years, were fittingly and appropriately rendered. After the service the church the funeral rites were completed at the grave and interment was made in the Confederate cemetery, a most fitting place for one of the body of one who lived every vicissitude of life with true and steadfast to the traditions for which the gray rose and fell. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. St. Marks, Rev. S. Arthur Dashiell, George Allensworth, Collins, Dan Beeks, Haden F. Fletcher Davis.
The passing of Mrs. Hall the poorer for the loss of one of the noblest and sweetest of mothers. Her grief-stricken sons and grand-children, their mother, mourn the loss of the closest ties of kinship ever by angel hands given to the world. But there are no, no bound to her by ties of kinship, knew her by the bonds of friendship that makes her passing a grief beyond words to her home was ever a shelter for the homeless, her counsel ever to the wayfarer on life's unsteady way, and her heart full of love for humanity. She was one of those who mourn her passing has left a vacancy in lives and hearts which nothing can ever fill.
We are left with the sadly consolation that she was ours for old age and that in paying for all physical bodies owe to her went on her final long and unafraid but, sustained and by an unflinching trust, she a little child seeking an adventure, confident that love awaited her embrace in the life of eternal bliss.

LACY-AMBERSON.
On Sunday afternoon, at the Methodist Church, a very beautiful wedding was solemnized, the bride being the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lacy of Hondo, and the groom Mr. James Amberson, a young business man of San Antonio.
After two lovely solos, rendered by Miss Margaret Wilson, and Miss Nettie May Smith, the ushers, Mr. Howard Short and Mr. Earl Lacy, came down the aisle to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Helen Gorham.
They were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, Miss Gladys Woolf and Mr. Amberson, Miss Emma Lou Coyle and Mr. McCullen.
The maid of honor, Miss Dora May Wilson, followed by Mrs. Asbel Gilliam, the matron of honor, were the next in line.
Just preceding the bride and groom came the little ring-bearer, a nephew of the groom and the little flower girl and boy, a nephew of the bride and a niece of the groom.
They were met at the altar by Rev. Foster who performed the most impressive ring ceremony.
The bride was beautifully gowned in navy blue georgette, trimmed in heavy silk lace. She wore a hat of one of the new shades of orange and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.
The matron of honor, maid of honor and bride-maids were beautifully gowned in various colored silks, and carried lovely colonial bouquets.
The altar of the church was banked in beautiful potted ferns and baskets of Easter lilies.
Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the bride's home where a lovely bridal supper was served.
The young couple left later for Austin where they will stay for several months, then will make their home in San Antonio.

LINDEBURG - SAATHOFF WEDDING.
Last Wednesday afternoon at about 4 o'clock a very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Saathoff of the Quihi community. The happy groom and bride were Mr. Henry Lindeburg and Miss Ida Saathoff, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Saathoff. The beautiful service which made the two one took place in the parlor of the bride's home and was conducted by Rev. F. Foerster, pastor of the New Fountain Methodist Church. Besides the parents of both the groom and bride, quite a number of immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bridal pair were present to witness the interesting service and wish the young couple Godspeed on their mutual way through life. Immediately after the marriage service all present partook of the splendid wedding dinner which had been prepared for the occasion. A few hours of agreeable social intercourse helped to make the event memorable for the newly weds and started them off on what we hope will be a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.
Mr. Lindeburg and his bride were both born and reared in the Quihi community, and are well and favorably known and enjoy the love and respect of practically the whole community. They expect to establish their home on a farm a mile or two Southwest of Quihi. The Anvil Herald joins their many friends in extending congratulations and in wishing them much joy and happiness.

PHILATHEA CLASS.
The Philathea Class met at the home of Mrs. Sydney Fly Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. After roll call was answered with Scripture verses, a motion was carried to assume the study of Paul with outside reading courses to be followed by examination for those who desired the undertaking. This study course will begin at the conclusion of the present Matthew study and will alternate a social hour's study at the home of a member with a meeting at the Methodist Church, the meetings to be weekly.
Mrs. Roland Chancery led in the instructive and interesting study of Matthew 24. The next lesson will be of Matthew 25, at the home of Mrs. T. C. Barnes.
Mrs. Sidney Fly, assisted by Miss Willie D. Fly and Mrs. Orceneth Fly, served a dainty fruit salad and spiced tea course to the following members: Misses Bertha Newton and Willie D. Fly, Mesdames Roland Chancery, John Horger, F. S. Cockrell, Isaac Wilson, W. McClagherty, Harper Fly, W. C. Brown, Richard Reilly, Frank Schweers, Jesse Newton, Theo. Cameron, Bettie Merriwether and Rev. A. M. Foster.

BRIDGE CLUB.
Mrs. Charles Monkhouse and Mrs. P. P. Brewster were hostesses to the Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. Monkhouse on Friday afternoon of last week.
Tally cards of green and white with suggestive Irish features and individual candy baskets of green and white mints indicated St. Patrick's sway.
A number of exciting games resulted in Mrs. F. S. Cockrell winning a dainty green handkerchief and gold tissue ornament, and Mrs. R. J. Noonan a guest prize of a grotesque little chicken perfume container.
At six o'clock, the hostesses served a frozen salad course with potato chips, iced tea and pineapple cream to the following: guests—Mesdames R. J. Noonan, O. H. Miller, W. H. Smith, Robert Decker and Miss Rose Wood of Uvalde; members—Misses Lillian Brucks, Lurene Decker, Gertrude Reilly, Fay Russell, Bess Brucks, Willa Mae Gaines; Mesdames Lou Heath and F. S. Cockrell.
Misses Clara and Lurene Decker will entertain on Saturday April 4th, at their home.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.
An advertisement in a newspaper is read by more people and costs less than any other mode of advertising. Circulars cost more than the space occupied by an advertisement, and then there is the additional expense of circulation. If sent through the mail, envelopes and stamps must be bought and clerks must be paid to fold and mail them. If distributed by hand they blow away and nobody read them. All these incidents are covered in the cost of an advertisement, and the newspaper containing the advertisement goes into the homes of the people and statistics show that five people read every newspaper printed. Sign boards on highways make fine targets as long as they last.—Hinds County Gazette.

The Value of COURTESY

The biggest word in the language of business is courtesy. No man in the business of selling will ever accomplish notable results without it. In the successful use of the telephone, whether for business or personal matters, courtesy is of paramount importance.

Courtesy is simply the application of common sense to the problems of business.

The voice with the smile is only one of the cardinal virtues of the successful telephone user.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

From The Devine News.

SORGHUM HAY PAYS BETTER THAN COTTON.

A local hay shipper informs us that Messrs. Otto Koenig & Sons have shipped about twelve or fifteen cars of baled sorghum hay, of their own raising last year, and that it has netted them about $200 the car. They raise corn and hay and very little cotton.

DEVINE SAND WOULD MAKE GOOD GLASS.

A number of years ago, parties interested in a glass factory investigated Devine sand and said it was the hot stuff. It was rumored then that a factory might be put in here and the land was located and arrangements to build a spur from the R. R. out to the land. But it fell through.
This week the talk is revived and those interested are calling for samples and give the matter encouragement. There is nothing tangible in sight.

SOLD TWENTY-NINE BALES COT-TON AT 25 CTS.

Otto Koenig and son, Alfred, sold 29 bales cotton last Friday to a local buyer at 25 cents and better. There are a few still holding. On the report that some had sold in Houston a week ago at 28 cents, several came in; but there seemed to be a mistake somewhere. The price around 25 cents will cause many to plant cotton now as it is thought late for corn should it turn off dry in early summer.

LIVE STOCK

Pure Bred Live Stock

Solve Feeding Problem

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The extent to which pure bred live stock helps solve farmers' feeding problems is a striking result of a questionnaire investigation just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture. In this study nearly 500 practical stockmen described what their most serious feeding problems were and how they are meeting them.

In answer to the question, "Do you find that live stock of improved breeding make greater gains or produce more than scrubs or common stock when fed in the same way?" there was almost unanimous agreement on the better results obtained in feeding improved live stock. Most replies gave specific figures on the extent of superiority as shown by financial returns. The figures varied widely with an average superiority of 39.6 per cent for the improved stock. In general, pure bred stock excelled the grades and the grades greatly excelled scrubs.

Commenting on the result, live stock specialists in the Department of Agriculture point out that improved stock is more likely to receive somewhat better feed and care, yet, since good stock and good feed and care go together so commonly, the per cent given is about what others may expect when they improve their herds or flocks. While the result lacks the preciseness of scientific work, it has as a background the average of 20 years' experience of nearly 500 practical live stock owners, under farm conditions. The figure given is strikingly similar to that of 40.4 per cent obtained by the department more than a year ago as showing the superior utility value of pure bred over common stock from a general farm point of view.

Many farmers, in discussing the superior ability of pure bred in utilizing feeds, gave interesting experiences. A southern hog grower states that his pure bred swine make 50 per cent better growth than scrubs on the same feed and care.

A South Dakota farmer told of selling three good grade steers on the Omaha market for $55.36 apiece more per head than scrubs raised with them. An Ohio dairyman kept milk records of some common cows and pure bred with the result that showed a production at the end of the year double that of the common stock.

Another farmer reported a feeding test in which he kept well-bred cattle and scrubs in the same yard, all receiving the same ration. The good cattle fattened while the scrubs remained poor.

Scores of similar experiences indicate that well-bred live stock is an important means in reducing feeding costs and increasing financial returns.

It is of interest to note, however, that, no matter how strong the consensus of opinion may be, there are generally a few on the negative side. Of nearly 500 experiences, five or about 1 per cent, for one reason or another, had failed to succeed with improved stock. This fact, taken into consideration with the foregoing data, points to a 99 per cent probability that pure bred and other improved live stock will aid greatly in solving economic feeding problems. Details of the department's recent study of feeding questions may be obtained from the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Proteins and Minerals

Necessary in Hog Feed

Considering the whole problem of economical, successful and satisfactory pork production with a minimum chance of loss from disease when one studies the problem a little, it is easy to see that the things necessary are a program that provides as cheaply as possible plenty of proteins and minerals in the ration. And in getting them cheaply by the use of growing crops, we have gone a long way in satisfying the sanitary requirements by eliminating chances of loss from some of the contagious diseases and parasites of the overcrowded hog lot.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Kill a scrub bull Monday and on Tuesday you'll be better off.

If you are planning on raising some good pigs and getting into the business, it is none too early to plan now for your next year's pig crop.

Exercise for the gilts and especially the old sows is necessary if large litters of strong, healthy pigs are to be expected.

Every progressive farmer should raise pure bred live stock, and every progressive breeder needs records for keeping track of his herd.

It is best to have more than one pasture for sheep, alternating each year. In this way troubles from parasites are reduced to a minimum.

What good are horns for domestic cattle? Except for purposes of defense on the range where coyotes and bears still do some damage, horns are a nuisance and a needless expense.

Potatoes Foremost Among Vegetables

Government Reports Show Farmer How to Sell.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The potato is foremost in value among our vegetables. It is the chief money crop of large areas, an important staple in many others, and is grown for home supply and local markets in almost every farming district. The wise or unwise marketing of the potato crop may easily mean a difference of millions of dollars in the farmers' income in a year, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. This is particularly true of the late or main crop of potatoes, which comprises about four-fifths of the total production.

Potato crop and market news supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture includes crop and market reports and summaries of many kinds published at eight field stations located in the prominent shipping sections and at about a dozen market stations, including the Washington office. These reports contain the necessary facts of production, condition, shipment, prices, demand, and quality. By persistently using and comparing reports from day to day and season after season, they become more and more useful in showing the potato holder when, how, and where to sell.

The general condition and course of the market is best indicated by the leading grades of the most important commercial varieties in the largest and most active markets. Among the regular price developments to be looked for in average seasons is a comparatively low price at digging time with some gain as shipments decrease or when winter conditions begin, then several months of moderate ups and downs, and then another swing, upward or downward, with the opening of spring activity. The proportion of stocks held by dealers on January 1 has often proved an indication of the course of the late winter and spring markets.

Interesting Figures on

Agricultural Products

The farmer still has use for the multiplication table, despite the ups and downs in the agricultural situation, according to some figures just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. For example, the output of skim milk powder has doubled in the last five years; the number of cow-testing associations has been doubled in the last six years; the quantity of ice cream produced has doubled in the last twelve years; and creamery butter in fifteen years. If whole-milk production continues at the same rate as during the last five years, it will double in twenty-three and a half years and pure bred cattle, if they continue to increase as in the last two decades, will double in thirty years. The population of the United States comes next, having doubled in the last thirty-nine years; the number of milk cows on farms has doubled in the last forty-four years; factory cheese production has doubled in forty-six years; and the average yield of milk per cow, if continued as in the last five years, will double in sixty years.

Three Big Essentials

Make Poultry Success

Poultry success is founded on three big essentials. Regardless of the particular specialty in poultry husbandry which one engages in, there are three big factors that control the results. The first is good stock, the second, proper housing, and the third, correct feeding. The three are of equal importance. They are each dependent upon the other. Neglect of one means failure. Poor stock properly housed and correctly fed will amount to little, while on the other hand, good stock improperly housed and fed becomes equally poor. Adhere to all three essentials, use common sense and system and your success will be assured.

Question of Successful

Late-Potato Marketing

The chief advantage of the late potato over its earlier brethren is its keeping quality which permits its sale and use all winter and through the early summer the following year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. This involves special methods. The whole question of successful late-potato marketing can be summed up under four heads, according to department workers. They are: (1) Careful planning from planting time to day of sale; (2) full use of crop and market news; (3) good handling, grading, and loading; and (4) readiness to learn from the methods of other potato growing sections.

Not Difficult Matter

to Dehorn Young Calf

When the calf is only a few days or not yet a week old, rub caustic potash on the horn buttons. It is well to remove the hair from about the button and apply a little vasoline or lard to the skin surrounding it. Then rub the potash on the nubs until they are raw. Keep the calf out of the rain to prevent the potash from being washed into the eyes and blinding the calf. Repeat the application twice more, allowing enough time between each treatment to completely dry. Be sure not to get the caustic potash on your fingers or on the skin about the calf's horn stub.

MISS LACY HONORED.

Mrs. Orceneth Fly's Sunday School Class gave a shower at the beautiful home of Mrs. Henry Merriman on Thursday afternoon, honoring Miss Evelyn Lacy, a bride of the week.

Mrs. Willie Crow, Mrs. Orceneth Fly and Mrs. Alvin Leinweber received the guests, some sixty or more, as they entered. After they had assembled, Miss Evelyn dressed in a beautiful afternoon frock of bronze satin-back crepe, was led through the spacious living-room to her "throne" which was decorated in white and gold.

Miss Fay Russel favored the bride-to-be with a toast, then Mrs. Oma Rogers gave an original reading of advice, entitled "Always be a Bride." After this, two pretty white rabbits (little Misses Evelyn Borner and Mary Ruth Wilson) came in, pulling a lovely white wagon laden with a large gold Easter egg. When they reached the bride the rabbits opened the door of the egg and brought out many beautiful gifts which they handed to the happy bride. The numerous gifts included articles of silver, china, cut glass and fine hand-work. After the presents had been passed around for the inspection and admiration of the guests, Miss Evelyn cut the wedding cake and then let the other young ladies cut a slice to determine their fate.

A delicious refreshment course of white and gold brick ice-cream and angel food cake was served which terminated a most enjoyable evening.

THE RAIN.

Rain, to the amount of .40 of an inch, fell in Hondo Sunday—just a sample. In the western and southern part of the County, it was somewhat heavier, while in the Northern part of the County it was lighter.

The precipitation in no part of the County was what is needed—possibly the sections visited will be somewhat benefitted, but everyone is longing for a general, soaking rain that will fill tanks and waterholes and put a planting season in the ground. Now that the long drought is broken a big rain is soon expected.

LEAGUE SOCIAL.

The social given by the New Fountain Epworth League on the night of March 13th, at the Ebenezer Church was a pronounced success from a social as well as a financial point of view. The various songs by the choir were excellent, and the talk delivered by Prof. W. N. Saathoff was highly instructive and enjoyed by all his listeners. There is no doubt that such talks will induce young people, and old ones too, to study the practical side of religion, of self denial and self control in acquiring habits of honesty, cheerfulness, and last but not least, of reverence, that will make their character more beautiful as well as stronger. However, the two instrumental solos, and the duet by Miss Horger and Miss Hollaway need especial mention, as they were indeed a treat to music lovers. The New Fountain, as well as every other community, needs more of such uplifting music as well as song, and it rests upon the younger generation to make the best of this for themselves. X.

TO SPEAK AT BAPTIST CHURCH.
Oliver W. Stewart, President of the Flying Squadron Foundation, Indianapolis, Indiana, one of the speakers of the Flying Squadron, is said to have few equals on the American platform.
The Chicago Tribune, commenting on one of his addresses said: "He was applauded repeatedly and at the conclusion of his speech was cheered long and loud. His speech was the oratorical feature of the proceedings."
There are those that think the prohibition issue dead. All such will be disillusioned upon hearing Mr. Stewart's address, it is said. He will point out the critical situation in which the country finds itself at the present time, and will offer a remedy.
The meeting is free to the public. Everybody is invited.
He will speak in the Baptist Church on Sunday March 29th, at 7:30 p. m.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST.
Jack Robinson, an old colored man, died at the old Ney homestead, near D'Hanis, last Friday night, and his mortal remains were interred in the colored people's cemetery, up on the Hondo, last Saturday afternoon.
Just where Jack was born, and his exact age are unknown, although Louisiana was probably his native State, and his age was around 78 years. About all he knew of his early life was that he came to San Antonio with his master who brought a herd of camels to West Texas for Uncle Sam, who was experimenting with the raising of camels. In 1863 Jack was sold by his old master, a man named E. C. Dewee, to Wm. A. Menger of San Antonio, and the following bill of sale given:
(Copy.)
"Know all men by these presents, that I, E. C. Dewee of San Antonio, Bexar County, Texas, have this day sold to Wm. A. Menger, for the consideration of three thousand five hundred dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledge, his negro boy, Jack—black and about 16 years old. I fully guarantee the said boy Jack sound in body and limb and a slave for life.
Done in San Antonio, November 7th, 1863.
E. C. DEWEE.
ATTEST:
SAM J. SMITH,
C. M. MERRITT."
The price paid for Jack by Mr. Menger, $3,500, must have been in Confederate money, as it was hardly probable such an exorbitant price would have been paid for Jack in gold in view of the failing fortunes of the Confederate armies. On the 25th of May, 1864 Jack again changed master, this time becoming the property of a citizen of Medina County, Mr. Joseph Ney, the purchase price in this latest transfer being in gold. In this instance Mr. Ney received the following deed:
(Copy.)
"Know All Men by these presents, That I, W. A. Menger of San Antonio, County of Bexar, State of Texas, have this day sold to Joseph Ney of D'Hanis, for and in consideration of the sum of Two hundred and fifty dollars to me in hand paid—a negro boy named Jack, about 16 years of age and of black complexion. I fully guarantee the said boy Jack sound in body and a slave for life.
San Antonio, Texas, May the 25th, 1864.
W. A. MENER.
WITNESS:
A. MOYE."
Following emancipation Jack remained with the Ney family. In fact Jack never developed mentally beyond a child mind and was incapable of caring for himself, and was a charge on the Ney family—particularly the last years of his life. As in many other cases, a real affection developed between the ex-masters and the old ex-slave and they did what they could to make his life pleasant. Jack never voluntarily remained away from the old home for a day. More than one effort was made to transfer him to some of the other homes of the Ney family but he always grieved for the old home and had to be returned.
For sixty-one years Jack had made his home with the Ney family, and they are grieved over his passing.

AU REVOIR.
"Gone but not forgotten" Pedro Sanchez who had been in jail on a charge of burglary committed at Devine, took French leave sometime Sunday night and neglected to leave his future address. And what is puzzling the Sheriff's department is, how he got out. He was in jail at 10 o'clock Sunday night, as Deputy Sheriff Charlie Schuehle heard him moving around up stairs. When the deputy entered the jail Monday morning to give Pedro his breakfast he found him gone. As is his custom Deputy Schuehle called to Pedro before unlocking the door and getting no answer, and fearing that his prisoner was contemplating trying to make his escape by overpowering him, he called his wife to come and lock the door after he entered the jail found everything intact—no ed to locate Pedro, but instead he found a note telling him he was gone and he (the deputy) would never know how he got out. The jail door was locked, and an examination of the pail found everything intact—no bars prized apart, no holes in the wall or ceiling. The only feasible theory of Pedro's get-away is that he had fashioned a skeleton key or some one on the outside had made one and let the prisoner, who was confined in the run-around, out of the jail door and re-locked it after the escape.
The Jail is again empty.

Another 'Bull' Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Zigfield Folliott and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

THE AMERICAN CONSTITUTION A LA CARTE
Order Any Amendment You Want
THEY are trying to pass an amendment to keep children from working. Now children didn't want to work, but they got tired waiting for somebody else to do it. If they would just put through an amendment to MAKE grown people all work, there would be no need to have this children one. Grown people stopped working without an Amendment or even a reason, so it will take more than an Amendment to start them. It will take a Miracle.
They are going to pass another Prohibition Amendment, somebody mislaid the rules of the other one. The 19th amendment made Women vote, some amendments make us do something and some keep us from it. No. 21 will give men with Knee Breeches the vote. About the 25th Amendment will prohibit smoking and when they do, 'Bull' Durham will boot-leg for a dollar a sack. (I knew I would get that Ad worked in there somewhere.)
Will Rogers
P. S. I'm going to write some more pieces that will appear in this paper. Keep looking for them.
